LIBRARY RESOURCES FOR ENG 101: ENGLISH COMPOSITION
Professor- Homer Mitchell

Douglas Library Homepage: http://www.clinton.edu/DouglasLibrary/

Find Books, Videos, and More

- Douglas Library Catalog – Search for materials at CCC’s Douglas Library.

- SUNY Plattsburgh’s Feinberg Library Catalog – Search for materials at Feinberg by clicking Other Library Catalogs. CCC students can check out materials from Feinberg with their CCC student ID.

Sample Item Record in Library Catalog

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>#</th>
<th>Cover</th>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Title Link to Full Record</th>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Call Number</th>
<th>Copies Owned/Out</th>
<th>Availability</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td><img src="image1.png" alt="Cover" /></td>
<td>Inslee, Jay.</td>
<td>Apollo’s Fire: Igniting America’s Clean-Energy Economy /</td>
<td>2008</td>
<td>HD9502 .U52 I536 2008</td>
<td>(1 owned / 0 out)</td>
<td>Is it here?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Click on the book's title for more information about it.

Click “Is it here?” to see an item’s due date.

- Call Number: Library items are shelved according to their call numbers. Write down the entire call number to find the item.

Find Articles in Online Databases:

1. On the library’s homepage under “Find Articles,” click Databases.
2. Choose a database.
3. Your username and password are the same ones that you use to login to the CCC computers.
Sample Search in Academic Search Complete:

- Subject terms can help you find different search terms.
- Click Choose Databases to search multiple databases at once.

Important parts of an item record (Academic Search Complete):

- Access the full article.
- Clicking on a Subject Term will bring you to a list of other articles on that subject.
- Email item record, full text document, and citation info.
- Cite gives citation information in a number of citation styles.
- An abstract provides a summary of the article.
Using ProQuest databases (e.g., Research Library):
1. On the library’s homepage under "Find Articles," click “Databases."
2. Under “General” databases, click Research Library.
3. You should see a list of databases. Click the orange “Continue” button to access Research Library.

Sample Advanced Search in a ProQuest database:

Citing Sources

- MLA citation guides are on the library's website under "Find Research Tools."
- Purdue’s Online Writing Lab (OWL) has an excellent guide for MLA format: http://bit.ly/qwe345
- Check out tips on plagiarism and how to properly paraphrase: http://bit.ly/qwe234
- Douglas Library’s “Research Paper Writing Tips” has resources on outline development, grammar, citing sources, etc: http://bit.ly/qwe456
Reference Assistance

- Contact info for CCC librarians is on our homepage under “Ask a Librarian!”

- Ask Us 24/7 – CCC patrons can now receive reference help from librarians 24 hours a day, 7 days a week! Our chat reference is similar to using Facebook chat or AOL IM. Click the Ask Us 24/7 icon on the library homepage to start chatting with a librarian.

- More resources for ENG 101 research are available in our Resources by Subject guide for English. From the library’s homepage, click Resources by Subject and then “English.”